Key Tips – Copyright and Licensing on online resources

Copyright Restrictions:
Harvard Business School may terminate the network access of users who are found to have repeatedly infringed the copyright of others.

Licensing restrictions:
Electronic resources listed on the Baker Library site are restricted by license agreement to members of the Harvard community and to on-site users of Harvard's libraries for the purposes of research, teaching, and private study. Commercial use, and systematic downloading, copying, or distributing of information are expressly prohibited. Users are individually responsible for compliance with these terms.

The entire policy can be found at:
